

Our Current Programs

BEAT provides unique Hip Hop-based music, dance, lyricism, and visual arts programs to schools, community centers, and public institutions ranging from India all the way to right here in NYC.

All of BEAT's instructors are top industry professionals who share our passion to promote social, emotional, and physical wellness through our four main programs:

BEAT Rockers, BEAT Breakers, BEAT Explorers, and BEAT Letters.

BEAT ROCKERS - Music Program

BEAT has taught the art of beatboxing to almost 900 students. Most are youths and adults with disabilities. We're showing that beatboxing can improve speech!

BEAT BREAKERS - Dance Program

BEAT has taught the art of breakin' to more than 500 students in NYC's schools and community organizations. We've seen improved physical & mental health among our participants.

BEAT EXPLORERS - Music Production & Lyricism Program

BEAT has taught the art of music production to almost 700 students in NYC's public institutions, including the New York Public Library. We've seen students develop the critical thinking and composition skills necessary for career development.

BEAT LETTERS - Visual Arts Program

In our newest program, BEAT teaches the basic letter styles and techniques of Graf Writing to students in schools and community centers. We've seen students expand their worldview through the process of creating and exhibiting visual art.

"Beat Global continues to be a fantastic partner in our mission to provide high quality enrichment activities for our students. With outstanding instruction provided by knowledgeable, caring teachers, and accessible and engaged leadership and administration, Beat Global consistently demonstrates a sincere commitment to youth empowerment and education"

- Richard Gilman,
Community Roots
Charter School